

Insight 1: Clothing generates the highest total sales

Clothing products contribute the highest total revenue compared to Beauty and Electronics. This indicates that customers spend more overall on clothing, making it the top-performing product category in terms of sales value.

Insight 2: Male customers make more purchases than female customers

The number of transactions made by male customers is higher than those made by female customers. This suggests that male customers are currently the dominant purchasing group in this dataset.

Insight 3: Customers aged 25–40 are the most active buyers

Most purchases are made by customers in the 25–40 age group, showing higher buying frequency and total spending. This age range represents the primary target audience for sales and marketing strategies.